Paean of Satoshi

Acknowledgements

Thanks to my mother for bearing me.

Thanks to Nature for her abundance and grace.

Thanks to Satoshi Nakamoto for giving us Bitcoin.

Thanks To Valerie B Love for organizing the Satoshi Cyber Opera, Tomer Strolight for writing “The Legendary Treasure of Satoshi Nakamoto”, Marissa Angeli for leading art ideation, and all others who’ve been involved in the Satoshi Cyber Opera project up to this point.

Thanks to the inventors of all the technologies that makes this work possible: from AI, to the internet, to the microprocessor, to math, to language.

Thanks to Dawn for believing in me.

Thanks to you for reading.

Many Thanks!

Foreword

The Paean is a poem adapted from the 1/1/2023 draft of the “Satoshi Cyber Opera.” It imagines a hero’s journey origin story for Satoshi Nakamoto, Bitcoin’s anonymous inventor. It consists of twelve verses of four quatrains with alternating end-rhyme.

This work is dedicated to the honor of the historical Satoshi Nakamoto, whoever they may be. It aims to monumentalize the phenomenon of Bitcoin’s invention, in brief. It is as open for re-imagining as the actual events.

The Paean touches on themes of joy, despair, redemption, and achievement. It contributes to an organic modern mythology honoring the virtues exemplified in Satoshi’s work. It is presented with mystery and wonder, in a style of magical-romantic-realism.

It begins with a young man awake to the beauty of the world. Realizing he’s been deceived into serving malevolent forces, he falls into despair. He is rescued from the brink of self-destruction by a vision offering redemption through the path of virtue, honoring nature.

Working with a woman who’s an image of his vision, he and she integrate the fundamental concepts which enable Bitcoin to work. They develop the technology in secret. Together they represent themselves to the wise warriors of the world as “Satoshi Nakamoto,” and discuss.

Cloaked in anonymity, they birth the technology into the public eye. Recognizing that it must be leaderless if it is to succeed, they surrender their power over it and leave their treasure as a monument for all who would follow to wonder at their motives and identities.

The story ends with wonder, just as it begins: wonder at the beauty of the natural world, wonder at the character of heroes who give power and fortune to humanity’s benefit. The tone moves from innocence through the darkness of corruption and into the light of achievement.

Spoken, it spans about eight minutes in verses of forty seconds. The brevity of the text lends itself to the modern “macro-image meme” presentation of the story. It could be serialized in images and videos via constrained mediums like twitter and nostr and extended into cinema.

The next work using the Paean will be a picture book. Its first version will use AI images to illustrate the poem. A following version will adapt these images into original watercolor art laid out as a graphic novel. Prints of this collection, bound as a book, will be offered for sale.

Note: plain text is the male voice, Italics the female, and bold is both together.

Paeon of Satoshi

Verse 1

The world is full of wonder there's joy in all I see

I wonder what lies under these wild forces flowing free though energy and patterns nature lives and works in language of mathematics

we can, with her, converse

Indistinguishable from magic fruit of science and industry transforms ourselves from tragic to beacons of self-sovereignty

Though our tools are so mighty still there's so much left to do

I will shape the world that might be and build our strength anew

Verse 2

At last I'm in position to wield the hand of state
I'm filled with my mission to strike the forces of hate

But this is not what I expected There's something wrong within My goodwill feels rejected
I fear I serve a thing malign

If I can channel this power perhaps I'll change its course I'll turn the forces that devour on themselves without remorse

Alas, it's not working the walls are closing in the kraken's only smirking benevolence can't even begin

Paean of Satoshi

Verse 3

The curtain is drawn back

I see what I've become a tool made for attack

to venom, I've succumb

My works have born misery even while I fought for good

I spread ill-will's hegemony

Cloaked in blithe falsehood

An instrument of evil is what I seem to be what I've done to people

I am ashamed, of me

How could I have done this?

It seems there's no way out

Where shall I find release

In death, I'm sure, no doubt

Verse 4

*My Child, you are mistaken
Your life doesn't have to end
For the lives your work has taken
You may yet make amends*

*My Son, don't take the easy way
I am not through with you Though you have gone astray you may yet be renewed*

*My Love, reclaim your will Your work may yet redeem
You must use your precious skill and invent the truth machine*

Come away with me now back to where we began take my hand, I'll show how from ashes, we may yet learn

Paean of Satoshi

Verse 5

Nature has no rulers

our only title is Peer

Seek not permissions

shine light without fear

Nature offers abundance

we must channel it for good work in ongoing dance

transform our seeds to food

Life is beloved of nature and it has but one goal

by replication, it is sure to find its niche and role structure rises from the void built on simple interactions matter is thus deployed and complexity emerges

Verse 6

*Remember my words
through action, earn trust
Seek me through the worlds
Find the way you feared lost*

Can it be that I'm still alive?
No, I've died, and am reborn
A new bearing for which to strive my old ways shall be forlorn

She spoke to me of nature
as maiden, mother, and crone now I'm resolved to serve her with flesh, and blood, and bone

But first I must find her
and understand what she said
"Truth machine?" I wonder how to thank her I'm not dead

Paeon of Satoshi

'Verse 7

While the city is so vast its a tiny part of the planet if I searched ever so fast Hope to succeed? I cannot

Yet I must, and I will the mission gives me life Even if I must suffer until all the world is free of strife

Ahead now, a vision?
bright spark in the ashes
she ignites in me a frisson as for herself she dances

As I'm watching she nears
"Yes?" I'm self conscious
Her voice holds no fears assured and courteous

Verse 8

Speak with me a moment?

I think you'll understand this consuming thought burning in my head

I propose to create a tool

That records for all to see Agreements made and sealed attestable, indefinitely

It should be, for all, accessible

It should testify to identity
It should be incorruptible

For truth is spoken irreversibly

With it we will prosper

In peace and camaraderie
Each one free to discover our way to serve, mutually

Paeon of Satoshi

Verse 9

But there are many problems
For each virtue, there's a vice
To have each of these properties
There seems an untenable price

What if it lives in the ether?

What if its stories are very short?

What if it knows only fingerprints

Of the truths that we assert?

Let our witness stand alone

Let our word support itself

Let our strand of truth be grown

Genesis rooted in our life

Reflect upon truths gone by

Build our present upon our past

Shout the future from on high

Thus make truths that last

Verse 10

Last problem is me

My time's not my own

Trust, my love, I'll be voice of what we've grown

Cloaked in mathematics

let us speak with the wise

Ask for critiques

On what this implies

Now we build our tools

Staff, shield and cloak kept secret from fools

work safe in the dark

Together we rally

from dark we bring light

triumph over the valley

dawn from the night

We can reshape our worlds holding this much power while yet Power corrupts
we've no wish to cower

If we want it to live
we must set it free its got all we can give
From afar we will see

Our friends of good will must take up the banner
we leave beacon on hill in monumental manner

We'll be just off stage
Cheering the fight
we'll rattle the cage and savor our sight

Verse 12

Gradually light takes hold darkness suddenly spent Still much remains to unfold
Lest it reemerge from blight

The work of the wise is ever ongoing
Face travail with poise grow in your knowing

Shed your own shackles
We offer an answer
Ignore the jackals
Take up the banner

Be Satoshi: Be light, be change, be bold
For Satoshi lives the spirit
Of we who have dared

PAEAN OF SATOSHI PICTURE BOOK

BY TJ Murphy

4/17/2023

DRAFT: WORK IN PROGRESS

Overview:

This work is an illustration of the Paean of Satoshi using images created through the generative AI program called Midjourney. It is unfinished, the roadmap for completion is below.

Description:

This work illustrates the Paean of Satoshi with an image for each line in the poem. The current version contains images for 149 out of 192 lines. The next version will be completed and reworked with consistent character styling, and finally with original physical watercolor art.

The plan to release this work to the public is as follows:

- A hash of this document will be published on 4/18/2023, establishing provenance
- This document will be posted on my website: TJdelaPlaya.com
- The poem itself will be published in a series of posts, one stanza a day for 48 days
- The posting will be repeated with the text overlaid on the images, meme-style
- The physical art will be photographed and assembled into a book, offered for sale
- The art will be exhibited in gallery shows and sold

The work is open for re-use and interpretation. It emerged out of the Satoshi Cyber Opera project, and it is envisioned that it will influence that project's development. A next step would be to transform the verses into song lyrics and the images into keyframes for music videos.

The Satoshi Cyber Opera might then follow a similar release pattern: publishing a song at a time via online channels, then assembling it into a cohesive whole that can be presented as a feature-length movie. The 2015 movie adaptation of The Prophet provides a template.

With this body of work established, its components can be sampled and remixed. It could be shown at Bitcoin conferences, in parts or as a whole. It could be used at part of a DJ set at festivals, accompanied by live performers. It could be presented as opera; rock or classical.

This work is intended for the broadest possible audience. It speaks of Bitcoin's principles without ever using its name, emphasizing the human interest at their foundation. It uses cultural archetypes that transcend time and location.

Crucially: its content will be available for re-use. People are encouraged to use the images and modify the story. Artists can adapt it to their language and cultural context. The original will be incontestably established through the hash published to the Bitcoin blockchain.

This story ends with Satoshi's disappearance, sequels might be envisioned which bring it up to date.

Notes on the Artistic Process

This work is the product of collaboration among creative individuals, creative use of generative AI, and focused solo work.

The concept emerges from Tomer's "Legendary Treasure" article, which he and Valerie adapted into a story arc around November 2022. Valerie presented a trailer for it at the Adopting Bitcoin conference in El Salvador, and she and I connected over a portrait I did of her.

Between November and March, Valerie organized a large group of artist, musicians, and Bitcoin evangelists around the concept of the "Satoshi Cyber Opera", envisioned as a live stage performance at conferences and Festivals. Marissa Angeli acted as artistic director, leading ideation sessions where the story was fleshed out from a spreadsheet to a story board, and artistic motifs we defined. I acted as a product manager, running meetings and creating documentation.

I also acted as an artist, contributing several hundred images illustrating the story line generated through Midjourney, and creating character sketches. The Cyber Opera project moved in another direction, and I am bringing this branch to completion with the current document.

Most of the 12 verses of the "Paean" itself were written in the three days following 4/10/2023, though verses 4-8 were mostly written by the new year. The verses were written "by hand", using a rhyming dictionary and a thesaurus (IE: rather than being AI-generated). All triteness in them is human; a product of my own invention and novice capacity.

The song lyrics in the appendix are the product of feeding the verses into Chat GPT and asking for a song. The prompts are included. The AI mostly just repeated the poem lines in verse-chorus-verse style. They're intended to be improved upon; a baseline structure. Similarly for the Midjourney images: I intend them to be references for original physical works.

There is one excellent, human generated song currently in the song list: "Behold the Kraken" by Anonymal. Anonymal has submitted a recording to the Satoshi Cyber Opera project with a powerful heavy metal vibe capturing the horror of the Kraken; it's a shining example of what the Satoshi Cyber Opera project aims to achieve through collaboration.

This work is offered in the same spirit: free for any other Bitcoin evangelists to create their own commercial works, with attribution. I intend to commercialize print editions of the original watercolor works inspired by this project, as well as the paintings themselves.

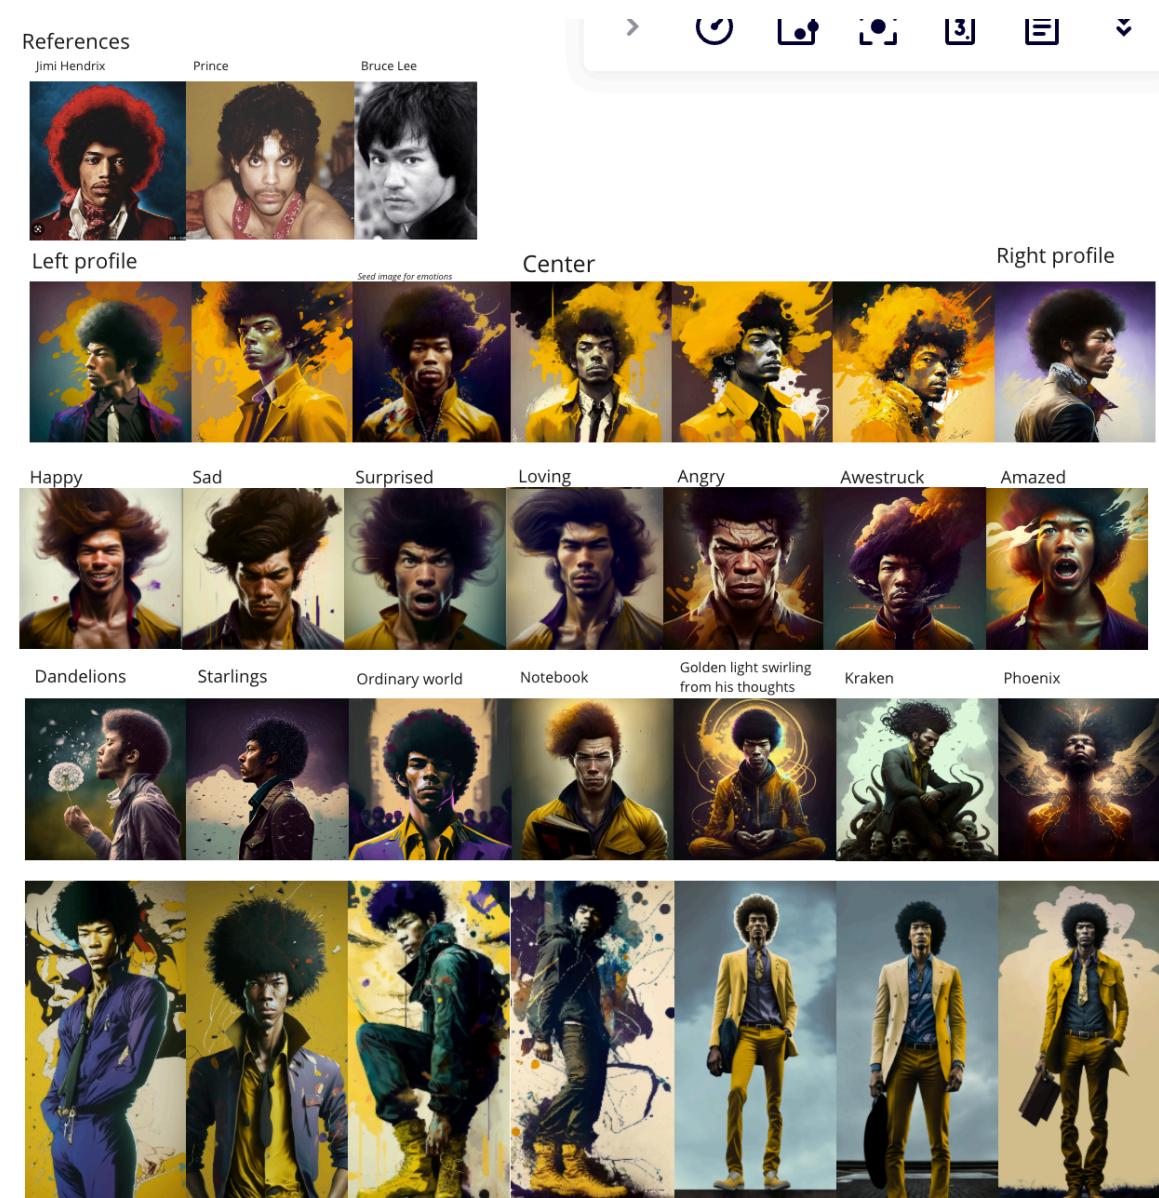

Paean of Satoshi

Character Sketch: Protagonist

Direction: Jimi Hendrix, Prince, and Bruce Lee mixed.

Rationale: All three are cultural icons with a distinct look and an aura of rebellion and coolness. Jimi is wild, Prince is sexy, Bruce is tough.

For the purposes of relatability: both Jimi and Prince are African/Caucasian mixed-race and have broad appeal. Bruce is Asian and very masculine. Giving him an African-Asian background creates an opportunity to link him to countries which have experienced hardship due to currency manipulation in this generation; IE Zimbabwe and Japan; while disarming the criticism we would receive if he was a typical white-guy. This heritage gives him visually interesting facial features and a skin tone that works well with his clothing motif.

Character Sketch: Heroine

Direction: Mix of: Theresa De La Para, María Feliciana de los Ángeles Miranda, Jacqueline Aguilera

Rationale: All three are latinas with a focus on countries with currency crisis/bitcoin adoption. Caramel-toned skin works well with the clothing theme, and dancing is prevalent in latin culture.

Theresa is an influential Venezuelan author who wrote about the struggles of women to chose their own destiny, and successful example of a woman doing so. Maria is a beloved Salvadoran revolutionary martyr.

Song 1:

Chat gpt prompt: adapt the following poem into a song. Make the tone optimistic and excited.

"Forces Flowing Free" or "Indistinguishable from Magic"

Verse 1:

The world's a place of wonder
With beauty all around
From mountains high to oceans deep
And life that knows no bounds

Pre-Chorus:

The energy that's flowing
In patterns, wild and free
The language of mathematics Unlocks what we can be

Chorus:

Indistinguishable from magic
Science and industry
Transforms ourselves from tragic
To hope and possibility

Verse 2:

We have the power within us
To shape the world anew
With tools both old and mighty
And technologies brand new

Pre-Chorus:

There's so much left to do
But we'll never lose our way
For the wonders of the world
Are waiting every day

Chorus:

Indistinguishable from magic
Science and industry
Transforms ourselves from tragic
To hope and possibility

Bridge:

So let's explore the mysteries
And find the truths within
For with every step we take
Our journey can begin

Chorus:

Indistinguishable from magic
Science and industry
Transforms ourselves from tragic
To hope and possibility

Outro:

We'll build our strength anew
And shape the world that might be
With joy and wonder in our hearts
And endless possibility.

Song 2:

Chat gpt prompt: adapt the following poem into a song. Make the tone Grim and determined. towards the end move into despair.

"Descent into Darkness" or "Futile Mission"

Verse 1:

At last I'm in position to wield the hand of state
I'm filled with my mission to strike the forces of hate
But this is not what I expected Theres something wrong within My goodwill feels rejected I fear I serve a thing malign

Chorus:

Grim and determined
I fight with all my might
Despair's on the horizon
The end's not out of sight

Verse 2:

If I can channel this power perhaps I'll change its course I'll turn the forces that devour on themselves without remorse

Alas, it's not working the walls are closing in the kraken's only smirking benevolence can't even begin

Chorus:

Grim and determined
I fight with all my might
Despair's on the horizon
The end's not out of sight

Bridge:

I thought I had a purpose
But it seems I was misled
The darkness has encircled me
There's nothing left to be said

Chorus:

Grim and determined
I fight with all my might
Despair's on the horizon
The end's not out of sight

Outro:

The light is fading fast
And there's nothing left to do
My mission has collapsed
And hope has bid adieu.

Paean of Satoshi

Song 3: Anonymal's Song

Written, composed , and performed by Anonymal

"Behold the Kraken"

Welcome to my war, I am the kraken!
Tentacles surround you as I squeeze
Suffocating
All your progress now is fading
Emptying your soul from every dream

Greetings, mortal soul, I am the master
My shackles, you can't break free

Asphyxiating
I want your code to be forsaken
As I drain your net out energy

Fear
creates control and let me go on and make me slave ya!
Hate fulfill my world, and turn me cold and let me fool ya!
Behold the Kraken, behold the master!
Chaos is my game, I am the Fiat

The standard of corruption and greed
I'm inflation,
Everlast centralization
I'm the one that rules you from the deep

Injustice is my name, I am the State
I reign along with bankers,
Filthy creeps!
Regulating
Always up to demonstrating
I'm the one that puts you in your knees

Fear
creates control and let me go on and make
me slave ya!
Hate fulfill my world, and make me cold and
let me fool ya!
Behold the Kraken, behold the master!

Song 4

Chat GPT prompt adapt the following poem into a song. Give it a tone as if the mother goddess is consoling her child.

"Rise Again" or "From Ashes"

(Verse 1)

My child, don't you worry
I'm here to hold your hand
I know you're feeling sorry
But you still have a chance

(Bridge)

My love, I believe in you
And I know you have the will
To make things right and true
And use your skill

(Chorus)

You're mistaken, my dear
Your life is not at an end
There's still time to make it clear
And make amends

(Chorus)

Reclaim your precious will
Your work can still redeem
With your truth machine, fulfill
The promise of your dream

(Verse 2)

My son, I won't give up
On the plans I have for you
Though you may have messed up
There's still much you can do

(Outro)

Come away with me now
Back to where it all began I'll show you how
From ashes, we'll rise again.

(Chorus)

Don't take the easy way
I'm not through with you yet
Let's turn this around today
And leave behind any regrets

Paean of Satoshi

Song 5

Chat GPT prompt: adapt the following poem into a song. Give it a sense of wonder and positivity. A childlike goddess is singing.

"Childlike Wonder"

(Verse 1)

In the world of nature
We're all peers, don't you know?
No need for rulers or failure
Let's shine our light and glow

(Chorus)

Abundance is all around
It's up to us to use it right
We'll work in a dance, so profound
And transform our seeds to light

(Verse 2)

Nature loves life, it's true
With one goal, to replicate and grow
It finds its place, a perfect view
And lets its magic show

(Chorus)

So let's work with this design
And channel nature's grace
With every simple interaction
Complexity finds its place

(Bridge)

Let's embrace the wonder
Of the world we call our own
And with every growing thunder
We'll see how much we've grown

(Chorus)

With every turn of fate
We'll build a brighter day
And in this ongoing dance
We'll transform our world in every way

(Outro)

So come, let's sing and play
With the goddess by our side
And as we work and pray
Our world will flourish and abide.

Song 6

Chat GPT prompt: adapt the following poem into a song. Give it a sense of urgency and motivation. It starts with a female part and transitions into a male part.

"Journey to the Truth Machine"

(Female part)

Remember my words
They hold a message so profound
Through action, let your voice be heard
And let the lost way be found

(Male part)

Can it be that I'm still alive?
Or reborn with a purpose in sight?
My old ways, I will not revive I'll seek a new path, with all my might

(Male part)

She spoke to me of nature
As maiden, mother, and crone
Her voice, a powerful teacher
Leading to a world unknown

(Male part)

I am resolved to serve her
With flesh, and blood, and bone
To protect her, I'll be a warrior
In this journey, I'm not alone

(Male part)

But first, I must find her
And understand what she said
"Truth machine?" I wonder
How to thank her I'm not dead

(Chorus)

Our quest is to seek the truth
To bring light where darkness reigns
In our hearts, let hope take root
And let courage fuel our veins

(Male part)

Let us journey through the lands
To find the truth machine
With purpose held in our hands
And faith in the unseen

(Chorus)

So let's keep moving forward
With our eyes on the prize
Together, we'll make our world restored
With passion that never dies

Paean of Satoshi

Song 7

Chat gpt prompt: write a song that is energetic motivated in tone. adapt the following poem into the lyrics:

"Rising Phoenix"

Verse 1:

The city may be vast
But it's just a small piece
Of this world, that will last
And my search for purpose will never cease

Bridge:

I see a spark in the distance
A vision that I can chase
It ignites a fiery persistence
And fills my heart with grace

Chorus:

Gotta keep on moving
Gotta keep on trying
My mission gives me meaning
And my spirit is flying

Verse 3:

As I get closer,
I see A woman dancing in the light
Her movements inspire me
And she fills my soul with delight

Verse 2:

I know it won't be easy
To achieve what I seek
But I won't let it defeat me
My determination runs deep

Chorus:

Gotta keep on moving
Gotta keep on trying
My mission gives me meaning
And my spirit is flying

Chorus:

Gotta keep on moving
Gotta keep on trying
My mission gives me meaning
And my spirit is flying

Outro:

With her voice so reassuring
And her kindness so contagious
I'll keep pushing, keep exploring
And never let my dreams be cages.

Song 8

Chat GPT Prompt: write a song that is energetic and inspired in tone. adapt the following poem into the lyrics:

"Truthful Ledger"

Verse 1:

Can you hear me, can you feel it?
The fire burning in my soul
A vision so crystal clear
A dream that's about to unfold

I want to build a better world Where truth and trust reign supreme
A tool to make it all unfurled
A ledger for all to redeem

Chorus:

Let's create a system that's reliable
A platform for all to see
Transparent and incorruptible
Where the truth can finally be free

Verse 2:

Accessible to everyone
A record of all that we do
Identity always verified
No room for lies to get through

We'll leave behind the old ways
Of deceit and dishonesty
A new path we'll blaze

Where integrity is the key

Chorus:

Let's create a system that's reliable
A platform for all to see
Transparent and incorruptible
Where the truth can finally be free

Bridge:

Let's join hands and make it happen
Together we can achieve anything
The future is ours to fashion
Let's make the world ring

Chorus:

Let's create a system that's reliable
A platform for all to see
Transparent and incorruptible
Where the truth can finally be free

Outro:

So won't you join me in this endeavor?
To build a world that's just and true
We'll create a system that's forever
And see our dreams come through.

Song 9

Chat GPT Prompt: write a song that is energetic and inspired in tone. adapt the following poem into the lyrics:

"Strand of Truth" or "Genesis Rooted"

Verse 1:

There are challenges aplenty
Every virtue has its vice
But we must not give up so easily
For solutions, we must be wise

Chorus:

Let our witness stand alone
Let our word support itself
Let our strand of truth be grown
Genesis rooted in our life

Verse 2:

What if it's just a ghost?
What if its tales are brief?
What if it's just our fingerprints?
On the truths that we believe?

Chorus:

Let our witness stand alone
Let our word support itself

Let our strand of truth be grown
Genesis rooted in our life

Bridge:

The past is where we've been
The present is where we stand
But the future lies within Let's make our truths expand

Chorus:

Let our witness stand alone
Let our word support itself
Let our strand of truth be grown
Genesis rooted in our life

Outro:

Let's reflect on what we've known
Build our present from the past
Embrace the future, make it our own
Our truths forever to last.

Song 10

Char GPT Prompt: write a song that is energetic and inspired in tone. adapt the following poem into the lyrics:

"Triumph in the Night" or "Cloaked in Mathematics"

Verse 1:

I'm the last piece of the puzzle
The final missing link
But I won't let our efforts fizzle
Together we'll swim or sink

Cloaked in the language of math
We'll speak with the wise and brave
Listen to their critiques and laugh
As our dreams we're about to pave

Chorus:

Now we're building our tools
With staff, shield, and cloak
Keeping it safe from the fools
As we work in the dark with hope

Together we rally and fight
Bringing light to the darkest night
Triumph over the valley, take flight
And watch as we win the fight

Verse 2:

Let's make a vow and seal it
For each other, we'll be the voice
In this mission, we'll commit
For every step, we'll rejoice
Our creations will be sublime
A testament to our growth
Our dreams will stand the test of time

Our journey will be our oath

Chorus:

Now we're building our tools
With staff, shield, and cloak
Keeping it safe from the fools
As we work in the dark with hope

Together we rally and fight
Bringing light to the darkest night
Triumph over the valley, take flight
And watch as we win the fight

Bridge:

We're intrepid and daring
With our heads held high
Our passion is all-consuming
Our spirit can never die

Chorus:

Now we're building our tools
With staff, shield, and cloak
Keeping it safe from the fools
As we work in the dark with hope

Together we rally and fight
Bringing light to the darkest night
Triumph over the valley, take flight
And watch as we win the fight.

Song 11

Chat GPT Prompt: write a song that is energetic and inspired in tone. adapt the following poem into the lyrics:

"Set it Free" or "Rattle the Cage"

Verse 1:

We hold the power to change
Our worlds we can reshape
We know that power corrupts
But we won't let it take us

Chorus:

We set it free to live
It has all that we can give
Watching from afar
As we reach for the stars

Verse 2:

Our friends with good will
Will take up the banner
Our beacon on the hill
Will guide them like a lantern

Chorus:

We set it free to live
It has all that we can give
Watching from afar
As we reach for the stars

Bridge:

We'll be there off stage
Cheering the fight
Rattling the cage
And enjoying the sight

Chorus:

We set it free to live
It has all that we can give
Watching from afar
As we reach for the stars

Outro:

We can reshape our worlds
We can make them great Let's seize the power we hold
And create our own fate.

Song 12

Chat GPT prompt: write a song that is celebratory and reveling in tone. adapt the following poem into the lyrics:

"Satoshi's Beacon" or "Shedding Shackles"

Verse 1:

As light breaks through the night
We celebrate this new dawn
Though much work remains in sight
Our hope for change lives on

Chorus:

Shed your shackles, break free
Join us in this wondrous sight
We'll create our destiny
With Satoshi as our guiding light

Verse 2:

Wisdom guides our way
As we face challenges ahead
With strength and poise we'll stay
And build the future we've said

Chorus:

Shed your shackles, break free
Join us in this wondrous sight
We'll create our destiny
With Satoshi as our guiding light

Bridge:

We'll ignore the naysayers
And take up the banner of change
For Satoshi's vision will not wither
We'll celebrate, and never estrange

Chorus:

Shed your shackles, break free
Join us in this wondrous sight
We'll create our destiny
With Satoshi as our guiding light

Outro:

We'll shine brightly, like the sun
And revel in our success
For Satoshi's work is never done
And our journey is endless.
